

CORPORATE SUPPORT POLICY

AOSW is an international 501(c)3 non-profit organization whose mission is to advance excellence in the psychosocial care of persons with cancer, their families, and caregivers through Networking, Education, Advocacy, Research, Resource Development. AOSW often partners with corporations on events, programs and educational initiatives. To guide our partner relationships, AOSW has developed the following policy to more clearly define our partnerships in the corporate arena.

- We welcome funding and support from our corporate partners*. AOSW has ultimate authority over program development, content and speaker selection.
- Any data and results corporate partners collect from our membership are subject to AOSW review and written approval before dissemination.
- Any selected or recommended speakers will be required to disclose their relationship with any corporate partners.
- AOSW does not endorse any specific medical product, treatment protocol or service or provide medical advice to patients.
- All information presented in materials and at AOSW programs will be presented in fair balance.
- Any corporate partner wishing to reference AOSW or any AOSW project in any public relations, marketing or promotional materials or activities, must first seek the prior review and written approval of the AOSW.
- AOSW reserves the right to approve the participation of third parties that may be recommended for involvement in any program, project or event.
- AOSW does not enter into exclusive partnerships on any topic area or cancer type.
- All materials and programs developed by AOSW are the property of AOSW, must carry the AOSW copyright as pertains, and as such, cannot be changed, modified or duplicated without prior written permission from the AOSW.
- AOSW does not permit corporate support to compromise its independence and integrity.
- AOSW is transparent in its acceptance of corporate partners. The identity of the corporate partner is disclosed with the activity that is being supported.
- AOSW follows standard business practices in facilitating access to its members through advertising, exhibiting, and rental of its mailing lists.

* "Corporate partners", for purposes of this document, encompasses the full range of relationships between AOSW and both for-profit and non-profit corporations.
